REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:

My sterling toilet tank (dual flush) on the main floor has a steady stream of water leaking into the toilet bowl. I think you replaced the fill valve in my master bedroom ensuite last year in January. Did we do the main floor one? Maybe we just did the flush valve gasket. As our duplex is 12 years now, maybe it's time to replace the balance of all the fill valves? We have 4 bathrooms. The ensuite one was replaced for sure last January. Can't remember if we did the others.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:

I replaced the FillValve and supply line I the Powder Room toilet. The shut off valve for this toilet is not fully shutting the water off but it could not be repaired because the main shut off valve for the house is not working. All other toilets have new fillvalves and are showing no signs of running.
