REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:
inspect source of leak under kitchen cabinet.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:

---The first thing I noticed was the bottom of the cupboard was warped, sloped towards the center, and the 2 holes where the waterline run through from beneath were wet which indicates that water is leaking from inside the cabinet through these holes. ---I tested the dishwasher by running it through a short cycle, there were no signs of water under the dishwasher or in the cabinet below the sink. ---I tested the sink and garburator by filling both sides of the sink twice and draining while running the garburator. There was no sign of water leaking from the drainage but I did notice staining from the p-trap where water looks like water was previously leaking out of. I mentioned this to Rosy and she told me that someone from the restoration company made a visit to her unit in December to inspect the flooring and he tightened the p-trap union. ---The kitchen faucet is leaking from the spray head, down the base, and collecting on the top of the sink. Some of this water was finding its way through to the cabinet below but not a substantial amount, I believe the majority of the water leaking to the cabinet below the sink was from the p-trap union, which no longer leaking.

TECHNICIAN RECOMMENDATIONS:
The faucet will have to be replaced.
