REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:

Hi, I think the ring might need replacing in my toilet. It kind of springs a leak on the floor when it is flushed. It's the original toilet in this 1955 building. I realize you're not booking until the new year, but I hope you can schedule me at some point. Not a big bathroom in which to work. There is parking for your truck.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:

The leak was coming from between the tank and the bowl. When flushed, water would leak through the tank to bowl gasket down to the floor on the right side, and due to the grade of the floor, would flow to the left side. I removed the tank and re-installed with a new tank to bowl gasket, tank bolts, and supply line. Tested and in good working order.
