REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:

Hi. We moved in to this place and have discovered in the back room a pipe that has been covered by a wood plank. Wondering if this is something that should be covered or fixed somehow by a plumber? This back room was a bathroom that the last owners started to renovate then discontinued. We will complete a reno one day but in the meantime don't want an open pipe hanging around. Suggestions?

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:

I installed a temporary cap on the exposed tub drain in the guest bathroom.
