REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:
Kitchen faucet leaking onto countertop.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:
 --March1: The leak was coming from the connection between the faucet sorayhead and hose. I removed the washer and oring within this connection, added grease to them, and reinstalled. During testing I noticed a very small amount of water on the integral cold supply. This could have been residual moisture from the leak I repaired, or it could be a pinhole in the supply. Unfortunately this area of piping is not visible as it is within the faucet body. I left a plate and paper towel under this area and asked David to check on it periodically. If the moisture dissipates the faucet is fine if not the faucet will have to be replaced. --March5: David followed up and insured me the area under the sink was still dry.
